

Marine constructions

Alfons Håkans Group's newest cornerstone is Sea Courier Oü, a marine construction specialist. Sea Courier Oü specializes in providing services to ports and fairway owners and to their managing bodies. Special equipment designed for the construction of the infrastructure in ports will be used for maintenance work after actual construction and they include, for example, maintenance dredging, improving breakwaters, repairing quay structures and maintenance and repair of maritime safety equipment at sea and ashore. Sea Courier Oü is a medium-sized and flexible marine constructor with innovative equipment and highly motivated, skilled personnel with capabilities to attend to a wide range of marine projects.
